COAL RECORDS AGAIN BROKEN

A Fraudulent Sister of Charity in New York Proves to be Pretty Inez Marinesque.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEWPORT NEWS, VA., August 30.—James E. Murphy, alias James Edwards, alias "Chin," and Earl Gordon, alias William Smith, have been arrested by the local police, in company with two well dressed women—Jessie White and Van West Pugh—and are being held for the Cumberland (Md.) authorities. The quartette has been here for about ten days. Yesterday a man who happened to be in the house where they were staying heard one of the women say that she would "tell that one of the men was wanted for train robbery." The man informed Detective Sergeant Reynolds of the conversation, and his investigation in the case led him to believe that the men were implicated in the West Virginia Central Railway robbery some time ago, and he placed the two men and the two women who accompanied them from Cumberland to this city under arrest. After midnight last night a telegram was received from the Cumberland authorities, asking that the prisoners be held until an officer could be sent for them. The men deny any knowledge whatever of the train hold-up, but Murphy admitted to the police that the police of the Maryland town believed he had been involved in a saloon robbery at Freeburg, in which six masked men relieved a number of miners of all their valuables.

PAID TO GO AWAY.

The women claimed to have been in the saloon at the time of the robbery, and Murphy said that the proprietor of the saloon paid the women's fees out of the case to prevent them from testifying in the case against the robbers.

Gordon, who claims to be a Knight of Pythias, and who wears a combination Pythian and Odd-Fellow chain, says he came here with the others, but that he is not wanted by the police of Cumberland or of any other city. In the Police Court to-day the prisoners were held for the Maryland authorities.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company has smashed another coal record. For the month of August, with two days not in the record, the piers here already have handled 500,000 tons of coal. The best previous record was 278,000 tons, in July of this year.

Miss L. G. Wells, connected with the trading department of the shipyard here, has been appointed one of the jurors to award prizes for the Louisiana Purchase Exposition exhibits. She left to-night for St. Louis to enter upon her duties. Miss Wells is a graduate of the Boston School of Technology.

Mrs. M. A. Finch, who arrived here yesterday, is a child of the Republic of South Dakota, refuses to have anything to say about her plans for the future. When seen by a reporter she greeted him courteously, but declined to make a statement of any kind. She is said to be a very attractive woman, and is now in the city on an absolute divorce from her husband, F. P. Finch, in a Sioux Falls court. The case is now pending in the South Dakota Court of Appeals. Mr. Finch is now spending several weeks at Greenville, White Sulphur Springs.

FRAUDULENT SISTER.

Mrs. Mabel Marston, the Newport News woman who is under arrest in New York for obtaining money under false pretenses, while garbed as a sister of charity, is said to be no other than pretty Inez Marinesque, who figured in several Police Court episodes before leaving her home here several years ago. Inez was sent to a Catholic institution from here, but she ran away and married an attorney at a beach garden near Baltimore. She was as demure a looking novice as one ever saw, and her innocent appearance had been her best defense against prosecution before she became known.

Emma McVicar, who has been a teacher in the city public schools for several years, has resigned her position, and will go to the Norfolk Protestant Hospital as a trained nurse.

FEUDISTS FIGHT AT RELIGIOUS MEETING

Whitakers and Altizers as Blood Thirsty as the Hatfields or McCoy's.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
TAZEWELL, VA., Aug. 30.—In a battle between the Whitakers and Altizers at their homes on Indian Creek in the northern part of this county last night, Noah Altizer was instantly killed, Lee Whitaker, Bill Whitaker and John Stinson, a Whitaker sympathizer, are dangerously wounded and not expected to recover. The trouble occurred at a meeting of the Hard Shell Baptists, of which the Whitakers are the leading lights. On the day previous the Whitakers had planned to hold a meeting in a school house near the scene of last night's fight. The Altizers and Whitakers are bitter enemies, and on the night before the meeting was to begin the Altizers are charged with setting fire to the school house and burning it down. Hence the Whitakers sought to worship near by in a grove.

While the meeting was in progress some one fired a pistol, which was a signal for the feudists to begin, and a general fight took place between the factions of Whitakers and Altizers, with the above results.

The Whitaker-Altizer feud has lasted in this county for several years, and has almost been an equal of the McCoy-Hatfield fight in West Virginia. It is learned that the Whitakers and Altizers have been bitter enemies for thirty years.

The beginning of the trouble was a fight between the fathers of the present feudists, which resulted in the killing of Altizer's father. A terrible thrashing, five years ago one of the Whitakers wronged a daughter of Altizer, and was at the time arrested and put in the Tazewell jail, but in some way escaped and married the girl. This helped to increase the enmity between the factions.

About a year ago Temp Rose, a harmless old man, was found dead near his home with his body full of shot. The murderer of Rose has never been found, but the supposition always has been that Rose was killed by the Whitakers because he gave evidence in a magistrate court against the Whitakers who had been making whiskey without license.

An attempt was made to bring the murderers to justice.

Keysville Improvements.

KEYSVILLE, VA., August 30.—Many changes have taken place among the business interests in town recently. Mr. J. H. Hawkins has sold his stock of drugs to Mr. H. D. Peters and the sale of the concern will be known as the Keysville Drug Company. Mr. H. R. Clark, an experienced pharmacist, will be the active manager, but Mr. Peters will attend to the financial part of the business, and contemplate opening a bank in connection with this. This will be of great advantage to the business men, as the tobacco market has grown to such proportions that a bank is almost a necessity.

Berkeley Gas Company Absorbed by Norfolk Concern—Negroes Arrested for Murder.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, VA., August 30.—According to the statement of a prominent colored politician who, strange to say, is a Democrat, many Norfolk negroes and negroes from other parts of the State, will vote for the Republican ticket in November and will cast their ballots in New York. He says that the Republicans are preparing to colonize the Virginia negro vote, and for this purpose the men have been offered jobs as laborers in the New York navy yard. In fact, the correspondent's informant stated that a colored man from Norfolk has just returned from New York where he registered for work in the navy yard, to be called later on to the campaign and voting in New York city in November.

Those negroes who will go to New York are disfranchised in this State. James Cullin and Jacob Jimkins, negroes, are under arrest at Portsmouth, charged with murder at Charleston, S. C. The authorities there have been notified of the arrests. The prisoners admit they are from Charleston, but protest their innocence of the murder charge.

The National Gas Company, of Berkeley, was to-day absorbed by the Norfolk City Gas Company. The purchase price was $45,000.

John Tarleton Pearce, formerly of Richmond, now of Danbury, Conn., and Mary Francis Parsons, were married to-day. Bride and groom are each 45 years of age.

WESTMORELAND COURT.

Dr. John Hannan to Conduct Revival Services.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
MONTROSS, VA., August 30.—The August term of Westmoreland Circuit Court, with Judge J. R. B. Wright on the bench, closed last week. A very large crowd assembled on the first day. Most of the time was taken up in argument of chancery cases. Only one case was tried by jury, that of Commonwealth vs. J. S. Hopkins for illegal sale of whiskey in local option territory.

Hon. C. C. Baker represented the Commonwealth and Richard Mayo, of Baltimore, the defendant. The case occupied two days, and resulted in a hung jury, four of the jurymen being for conviction and three for acquittal.

Miss Georgea Marmaduke, near this place, died Friday of consumption, age eighteen years. A brother was buried about three weeks ago, who died with the same disease, and two other members of the family who are likewise affected, are not expected to live but a very short time.

Negroes Under Arrest Who Harbored Jack Dillard.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
DANVILLE, VA., Aug. 30.—Officer John T. J. Hall, who was shot by a negro general in the city bound with ropes and will in all probability recover.

Chief of Police J. B. Akers telegraphed to Portsmouth for bloodhounds to put on the trail of the escaping negroes, put to secure the animals. It is understood that an effort is being made to have dogs from the State penitentiary farm from near Richmond brought to Danville, and in case Jack Dillard is again seen to put them on the trail.

Negroes giving their names as Samuel and John Smith, Moses Pay and Charles Moon were arrested in the vicinity of Chatham this afternoon as accomplices of Dillard. The negroes were brought into the city bound with ropes and lodged in jail. One of the prisoners acknowledges having harbored Dillard, and says that all of them assisted him to keep clear of the officers. The Mayor has offered a reward of $150 for the apprehension of Dillard, and the effort is being made to have him brought to Danville.

All is quiet here. If Dillard is arrested he will probably be jailed at Chatham. There is a possibility of an uprising in case he should be brought into the city.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
JARRATT'S, VA., August 30.—The Bolling murder case reconvened to-day at 11 o'clock. The prisoner and counsel from Petersburg. Interest in the case has not waned in the least as evidenced by the large crowds in attendance to-day. It seems rather to increase.

A number of witnesses were examined and the evidence was as much or more damaging to the prisoner than that of yesterday. Mrs. Chappell, the prisoner's sister, was recalled and testified to his having offered her the girl's clothing before the dead body had been found. His nephew also testified to the harsh treatment the girl had received at the hands of his uncle. It will be borne in mind, however, that very amicable relations did not exist hitherto between the prisoner and his sister. The magistrate who tried the former case, testified that kerosene oil was found on a small bit of her clothing produced at the first trial.

Dr. Wright gave in evidence of an expert character relative to the position of the body and the probability as to how the hair was removed from her head and other matters of interest. Nearly all the witnesses for the prosecution had been examined when Mr. Buford, prosecuting attorney, offered the deposition of Mrs. Bolling, mother of the murdered girl.

Counsel for the defense objected to its being taken, whereupon Mr. Buford asked the court if sufficient evidence had not already been obtained to send the prisoner on to the Circuit Court. The court being desirous of exhausting all evidence, decided to hear the deposition of Mrs. Bolling, who is eighty-three years old, and lives in Brunswick county.

At this juncture it was evident that the case could not be closed to-day, and the court was adjourned to reassemble Friday, September 2d.

The prisoner, being under the strain with remarkable fortitude and exhibits a little emotion as any one in the gathering.
